BRAND GUIDELINES

by Mabble Media | 2022

Overview

WHAT IS THIS GUIDE?

This is a resource to help you understand how Focus engages with the community, both visually and personally. These guidelines were created to help you navigate Focus requirements for usage of brand identity including logos, typography, and branding assets.

WHY IS IT IMPORTANT?

Consistency of the Focus brand, as well as clarity of use and intentional language, is a large part of what makes the brand experience valuable to the client. Using and adhering to these guidelines will not only help protect our brand’s integrity, but will also help clients instantly recognize references to Focus. A consistent brand and user experience is a large aspect of building trust with clients.

WHEN SHOULD YOU USE IT?

This guide will help you when creating and reviewing collateral prior to and during the approval stage. Use this guide whenever you are representing Focus, whether that be visually or interpersonally.

Design

The design portion of this guide will lay out guidelines as to how anything and everything Focus should look. When a brand is visually consistent, it becomes recognizable to eyes that have seen it in the media, thus establishing brand trust and bringing clients into a deeper commitment to the brand. Please follow these guidelines carefully and refer back to this booklet in any moments of design confusion.

Logo

PLACEMENT

The Focus logo should be used on all brand publications and collateral. The logo should be clearly present, but not dominating and never miniscule. Logos should be placed intentionally on backgrounds that offer enough contrast for clear readability.

VARIATIONS

These are the acceptable versions of the logo. Do not manipulate the logo using different fonts, stretching or warping, drop shadows or glows, or any other filters or effects.

TEMPLE & TIPS

The lettermark is made up of two parallel temple and temple tips that form a legible and distinct uppercase F. This simple and clever lettermark is sure to bring a smile when individuals identify the eyeglass anatomy; ensuring an impactful and memorable logo.

LETTERMARK

Use the lettermark for social media default or profile photographs and for your website favicon.

UPPERCASE F

The first letter of the Focus name. This simple uppercase uniquely employs the temple and temple tips of eyeglass frames for a timeless and identifiable lettermark.

PRIMARY

FOCUS
EYE CARE & OPTICAL LAB

USAGE

The primary logo should be most often used whether it be signage, print, uniforms, and more. It is important to make sure this logo is prioritized on all collateral as it includes the Focus tagline which will inform viewers of your business.

SECONDARY

USAGE

The secondary logo is to be used at small sizes when the tagline will become illegible or isn't needed. Examples include small tags on eyeglass cases or the logo on eyeglasses themselves.

Typography

Fonts are just as important to your brand as your logo. Make your company recognizable on any platform through consistent usage of the same fonts. Use these typefaces when creating both printed and digital media.

"Mundial translates as "Worldwide", this name is a statement: the idea of synthesizing characteristics from different traditions in a single typographic style."

SUBHEADLINES | UPPERCASE | 200 TRACKING

Body Copy

Mundial Light

Body Copy | Mixed Case | 0 Tracking

USAGE

Use Mundial Regular mixed case for headlines (<h1> for web). Headlines should be the largest point size and be one word to several words.

USAGE

Use Mundial Thin uppercase for subheadlines (<h2> for web). Subheadlines should be the second largest point size and be one word to several words. Tracking should be 200.

USAGE

Use Mundial Light mixed case for body copy ( for web). Body copy should be the smallest point size, but never miniscule.

Color

The colors outlined here should guide all color choices on all digital media and print collateral. When possible, use these exact color codes. RGB and hex # codes are used for digital representation, while CMYK codes are used for printing.

These colors should remain consistent across all branding and no additional colors should be added without an intentional rebrand, with the exception of pure black or white.

Assets

Brand identity can show itself even in the most minute details. These assets are meant to act as pieces that allow your brand to display itself effectively. Do not overuse these shapes, but rather allow a few intentionally placed assets to do a lot of visual work.

CORNERS

The corners asset uses the F lettermark temple and temple tips to frame text. This can be used to call attention to or separate text including paragraphs, quotes, or testimonials.

PATTERN

Add a pattern of color wave lengths to add visual interest to an otherwise blank background. Use the pattern with a low opacity. This example is White (#FFFFFF) on Ash with an opacity of 30%.

Enhancing your vision

The frame shape comes from the outside rounded corner of the lettermark where the temple meets the temple tip.

SOLID FRAME

The frame is a versatile asset that can be used in three different ways. This solid frame can be used to break up a page and call attention to or separate text.

PICTURE FRAME

The solid frame can be used to hold photographs.

BACKGROUND FRAME

Like on page 3, the background frame can be used to break up a background color on a page.

WAVELENGTHS

These segments are pulled from the pattern and can be used to point out/draw your viewer's attention to certain information.

Photography

A thoughtful, high quality photography library will further connect your audience and your brand. Photos do a lot of visual work in telling your story. Seek photos that clearly capture the Focus space, services, equipment, products, team, and clients.

DETAIL FOCUSED

Capture clear and close-up images of eyewear, lab equipment, eyes, contact lenses, and carefully curated details of your space including plants and lighting.

CLIENT FOCUSED

Capture the client experience. Their interactions with the team, trying on frames, and their smile knowing they look and feel great.

TEAM FOCUSED

The team is the face of the brand and builds relationships with your clients. Capture your team members in their roles and interacting with colleagues and clients alike.

Collateral

Brand collateral comes in many forms. Here are just a few examples of how your logo and branding can look translated across business cards and letterhead.

Mockups

Here are a few mockups of how your logo and branding can look translated across eyeglass frames and bags.

Messaging

The messaging portion of your brand guide will provide clarification about who Focus really is, and how to properly represent the brand identity through language.

Core

Your core messaging is where the philosophical underpinnings of the organization are spelled out. Core messaging should be referenced when any brand collateral is being created to ensure it aligns with your philosophy. If it is taken into account, then your brand will clearly translate to the audiences you care about. Knowing your core messaging means knowing who you are.

One-liner alternatives to capture the concept that better vision improves quality of life, productivity, and leads to good actions:

- See to succeed.
- See well. Live well.
- See what's good. Do what's good.
- See better. Live better.
- Improve your vision. Improve your life.
- Improved vision to improve lives.

DESCRIPTION

Focus Eye Care and Optical Lab is a locally-owned, full-service practice providing complete vision care—from eye exams, to fittings, to a unique and wide selection of prescription eyewear crafted in-house.

ABOUT

Originally founded as Speedy Specs, Focus Eye Care and Optical Lab is continuing its legacy as the only full-service optometry practice in Elko County, with our relational team of optometrists and licensed opticians providing complete vision care to our local community.

Studies have shown that better vision leads to better action. When we can clearly see the good in the world, our quality of life improves and we are more likely to act in ways that benefit those around us. In other words—when we see what's good, we do what's good. Our experienced optometrist, Shaune Wallace, provides eye exams and vision tests to protect your eyes and enable you to see the world with clarity so that you can bring an abundance of goodness to those around you.

And as the only optometry practice in Elko County with an optical lab, we craft prescription eyewear in-house using state-of-the art equipment so you can get high-quality lenses quickly. We also offer a unique and expansive selection of frames to help you find your look. Our certified and licensed opticians are up-to-date on the newest technology and education, ensuring that your lenses fit you perfectly. We also have a certified safety lab so we can manufacture custom safety glasses and goggles.

At Focus Eye Care and Optical Lab, our promise is to provide expert eye care with a friendly and supportive environment. We're focused on eye care. Focused on optics. Focused on you.

Core continued

A mission statement concisely explains an organization's purpose and its overall intention. The mission statement supports the vision and serves to communicate purpose and direction to employees, customers, vendors, and other stakeholders.

MISSION STATEMENT

To improve lives through full-service eye care and personalized customer service.

Vision statements communicate where your organization would like to go and what your big picture goals are.

VISION STATEMENTS

To set the standard for quality eye care in Northern Nevada.

To be the leader in manufacturing safety eyewear for the mining industry.

A brand promise is what your organization vows to deliver in each and every interaction.

BRAND PROMISE

To provide expert eye care with a friendly and supportive environment.

Brand Values

A brand's values ultimately shape their culture. These values are the ones that should shape your brand and the way you interact with the world. These values should be checked against every public and private interaction, email sent, and piece of collateral.

A PATIENT-FOCUSED APPROACH

Everything we do puts our patients at the center. From the exams to the fittings, we strive to make sure that our patients not only see clearly, but are seen clearly, resulting in eyecare solutions that bring them confidence.

EXPERT EYE CARE, FROM START TO FINISH

Our doctors, certified opticians, and skilled lab technicians stay up-to-date on practices and technology to ensure that our patients are receiving the best eyecare and eyewear available.

LOCALLY-MINDED RETAIL

We are friendly neighbors who benefit the local community with relational service and offerings.

Helping you focus on what matters most

Target Audience

When you know who it is that you are trying to reach, you can have a better grasp on how to reach them intentionally. Doing this not only allows your brand to flourish, but also empowers your audience to feel known and seen, effectively bringing them into a deeper commitment to your brand.

THE QUALITY SEEKER

This person won't entrust their eyes to just anyone—they are looking for skilled practitioners who will give them the best results.

THE CONVENIENCE SEEKER

This person values the "one-stop-shop" approach, preferring to have all their eye care needs met under one roof. They also value the quick turnaround times that Focus offers.

THE CONNECTION SEEKER

This person doesn't want to be treated like a number—they want to develop personal relationships with their eye care professionals.

THE LOCALLY-MINDED LENS SHOPPER

Rather than shop around online, this person wants to keep their money in the local economy.

See your world clearly

Brand positioning is defined as the conceptual place you want to own in the target audience's mind. In other words, these are the benefits you want them to think of when they think of your brand. An effective brand positioning strategy will maximize customer relevancy and competitive distinctiveness.

Brand Positioning

QUALITY AND CONVENIENCE

With a team of expert professionals and an in-house optical lab, people know that they are getting the best, simply and speedily.

FRIENDLINESS AND CARE

In every interaction, patients feel heard, seen, and valued.

LOCALLY-BENEFICIAL

People see Focus Eye Care as a valued contributor to the Elko community.

Tone of Voice

What you say to your audience matters, but how you say it matters just as much. Because of this, communication should be carefully filtered to make sure it meets your TOV standards in emails, letters, flyers, and even face-to-face interactions. Here you'll see the main attributes chosen for Focus Eye Care's TOV with helpful guidelines.

TONES TO AVOID:

Corporate, Critical, Competitive

WARM | FRIENDLY | RELATIONAL

Our patients are our focus, and our genuine care for the people in our community shines through in our communication.

WHAT IT IS:
Positive, informal, down-to-earth

WHAT IT ISN'T:
Exclamation-point driven

PROFESSIONAL | EXPERIENCED KNOWLEDGEABLE

As skilled eye care professionals, our education and training come through in our communication.

WHAT IT IS:
Confidence, communicates information clearly

WHAT IT ISN'T:
Technical, dry, condescending

Form. Function. Fast.
